Henderson Whittaker, Joyce (sent in by Glenn Hyde)

Joyce Henderson '60 (an only child of Floyd and Ina) grew up with my sister Lois ('61) and me from the early 50's. She was a dear friend and wonderful neighbor. Her father was like a dad to me after our dad's death in '57. Lois and I have very fond memories of her and her family. We lost contact with her after leaving home in the 60's and started looking for her about 6-7 years ago.

From what we can gather, Joyce developed Pancreatic Cancer several years ago and it finally took her life in December 2013. Joyce was blessed with having four wonderful children and all lived near her in Northern Mississippi, near Memphis. Joyce had many friends growing up, Helen Green, Donna Dorman and Carla Good plus, all her neighbors and school friends. We so miss not having the opportunity to be with her in her final years. Her Face Book page is still active somewhat under Joyce Whittaker.

Jones Stegall, Judy (Class of '60)

Judy was born November 1, 1942 in Hempstead, New York, the daughter of Jane and Idwal Jones. She lived in Garden City, NY until high school then moved to Ft. Lauderdale, FL where she graduated from Stranahan High School.

Judy became a Registered Nurse, receiving her degree from Charity Hospital School of Nursing in New Orleans, LA. She also worked as a RN at Ochsner Medical Center in New Orleans. After she moved to Marietta in 1967, she was privileged to stay-at-home with her daughters while volunteering with Hospice and Meals on Wheels and being involved with the Junior League of Cobb-Marietta and Cobb Medical Auxiliary. After 25 years, Judy reinstated her nursing license and served as a Home Health Nurse and then Discharge Planner for Wellstar Cobb Hospital.

Judy loved her home and family. She loved her girls, their husbands, and grandchildren and was their biggest cheerleader. She was kind, compassionate, a patient listener, and great encourager. And she was witty. Her beautiful smile and infectious laugh will be missed.

Judy's God-given passion was caring for others. She cared deeply as a nurse and also as a friend, making sure others' needs were being met. She also lovingly cared for many animals over the years. Needy dogs and cats without a place to belong would somehow know to come to Judy's house.

Dixie Lee Joyner (Class of '59)

December 4, 1941 - June 8, 2023

Dixie Lee Joyner left this world on June 8, 2023. She died peacefully at her beloved Bob's home in Nashville, Tennessee.

Because of her big love for us, she leaves a huge hole in our lives. Dixie, born in Lewistown, Montana, on December 4, 1941, was the first born daughter of Donald Pierce and Camille Crowley, little sister to John Charles and big sister to Camille Jane. Dixie spent 81 years of her life exploring the world, creating thousands of friendships and making people laugh!

Dixie was a smart, adorable little girl with her piercing blue eyes and blonde curly hair. She was precocious and curious. She loved school and remained in contact with many elementary and high school friends, including her first grade teacher, who has now outlived Dixie. Having moved to Fort Lauderdale, Florida at age four, Dixie graduated from Stranahan High School in 1959. Many stories from her high school years about her dear friends, parties at the beach, hanging out at their backyard pool and going to dances will remain with us.

Dixie liked to sing, to entertain, to make friends and to give to others. She was a life-long singer, singing in the car with her dad to singing with the Stranahan Chorus and traveling around the Northwest with the Sweet Adeline's. After she entered hospice, Dixie continued to entertain her loved ones with her singing at the top of her lungs, which also cleared her lungs and kept them strong.

As for entertaining, she loved it! Dixie never met a stranger and with her remarkable gift of conversation, she made dear friends as far away as Australia and Scotland and as close as next door. Dixie embraced the conversation technologies of Facebook, Facetime and texting, keeping in touch with everyone 24/7. After starting hospice in March, Dixie connected with friends and family and received guests from Maine, Montana, Texas, Florida and Australia.

She was an almost 50 year friend of Bill W. and encouraged so many of his friends throughout the decades. Constantly sharing her experience, strength and hope and telling Bill's friends to take it one day at a time and supporting Lois's friends that they too, could get through life if they kept it simple.

Dixie didn't let moss grow under her feet. She was one of the fastest walkers God ever put on this earth. As a career dental hygienist, she traveled all over the USA and Montana sharing her passion for dental care, proper brushing and flossing. She would give of her own time and money to help those who could not afford dental care. After retirement, she volunteered at Council on Aging and the hospital. She also began extensive travel to Ireland and Scotland, her favorite countries, as well as her bucket list trips to China and Australia and trips too many to count to cities all over America. A favorite thing was to take family and friends to Yellowstone and Glacier National Parks. Knowing all the ins and outs, she shared the best picture spots and wildlife viewing areas.

And Dixie was generous beyond measure. She would give you the shoes off her feet or the shirt off her back or at least order you one like it and ship it to you. If she liked a product, she bought it in multiples and shared with her loved ones. She was generous with her time, hosting hours long coffee chats in her home, traveling across the country to see friends and family, writing thank you notes and other "real" letters and always making time for phone calls, hugs and kisses.

In 2015, Dixie reconnected with a college boyfriend, Bob Thorburn, and they packed more love, fun and adventure in eight years than most will pack into a lifetime. Bob was truly the love of her life. She was made complete by his love for her.

Dixie Lee Joyner will be remembered for many things: her sense of direction akin to a homing pigeon, her photographic memory, her devotion to jigsaw and Sudoku puzzles, her wonderful gift of hospitality and yet, her lack of cooking ability, a wolf whistle that made your ears ring, her middle finger, her keen and often irreverent sense of humor, which led to infectious giggling, which usually led to her wetting her pants, her unmistakable handwriting, her dedication to higher education and her support of many students of Central Montana in their college and trade school endeavors.

Dixie they threw away the mold after your birth and through your life thousands of people were blessed. You leave behind, your beloved Bob, your cat, Marti, your brother, John (Marceil), your sister, Jane, nieces and nephews, Jill (Mark), Jayla (Clint) and Mark (Jennifer), grandnephews and grandnieces, Barrett (Hope), Tucker, Bridger, Camille, Brynlee, Natalie and Kate and finally, great grandniece, Camille Joy and hundreds of friends. In lieu of flowers, give a college kid some money, take a friend out for a meal, handwrite a letter, pay for dental work for a friend or donate to your local Council on Aging. Whatever you do in memory of Dixie make sure there is a smile on your face.

The family is extremely grateful to Dixie's hospice nurses, Tara and Jody from Alive Hospice and her caregivers, Linda and Brandon, for making Dixie comfortable and cared for so our time with her could be more relaxed and fun.

A memorial service will be held on Saturday, September 16 at 1:00 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church in Lewistown, Montana, which will be livestreamed with a reception to follow. A weenie roast and service will be held at a time to be determined at Little Gasparilla Island.

Roscioli, Robert A (7/26/42-7/27/20)

Class of 1960

It is with great sadness that we announce the passing of the legendary Robert "Bob" Roscioli. Mr. Roscioli has been an icon of the marine industry and is globally respected for personal attention to details and outstanding service to the yachting industry at Roscioli Yachting Center.

Bob built his business and made his mark as a pioneer in the South Florida marine industry when he started a business from nothing, using his master paint brushing skills and gained a reputation as a perfectionist. He then launched what is now a world-renowned, state-of-the-art, full service shipyard. In the late 1980's, he started Roscioli Donzi Yachts, building custom sport fishing yachts which was a passion of his.

Bob's mantra "Today's the Day" is the way he started every day at the yard. He could be seen walking the shipyard every morning, preparing for the day ahead. A true friend to first responders and veterans, Bob was an advocate of providing jobs and teaching those who have served or needed a chance. A true legacy to the marine industry.

Mr. Roscioli leaves behind Sharon, his loving wife of 51 years, his son Robert (Traci), his daughter, Heather (Brian), and three granddaughters, Grace, Hannah and Rachel. Bob will be deeply missed by his employees, innumerable colleagues in the yachting industry, many of whom he mentored, and the yacht owners who have depended on him for his loyal service.

Due to the Coronavirus pandemic and out of respect to the wellbeing of Robert's family and visitors, services will be held at the convenience of the family. It can be a great comfort to a grieving person or family to hear that others thought highly of their loved one too. If you knew and admired Bob, be sure to let the family know by writing a few words in the "Memory" section of his obituary on the Kraeer - Fairchild Funeral Home website.

Valasky Philhower, Mary Faculty (1920 - 2016)

It is with a sad heart that we must report that our friend (and former Chemistry Teacher) died on July 6, 2016. She was strong until the last year, when she developed weakness, thus leading to staying in bed almost all day, not eating properly, etcetera. We were fortunate enough to get a last visit in when we were down there in May. She was living at her nephew's home.

No service or burial was done, per Mary's request. Please remember her in your prayers and know that she is finally at a place she desired. Alert until the end, her body just gave out, due to her age. We feel fortunate we had her with us as long as we did. Each trip to Florida always included a side excursion over to Bradenton for a visit.

I do not have many SHS "Reunion" Group names, so if you know of someone who knew Mary, please pass this message forward.

Until we meet again~ Pat Craig (Class of 1959)

Wright, Peter B. (1944 - 2023)

Capt. Peter B. Wright was quite possibly the best heavy-tackle captain of the modern era. The IGFA Hall of Famer was born in 1944 and grew up in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. At age 11, he started working on boats and wired his first marlin in the Bahamas. Wright received a degree in biology from Georgia Tech in 1965 and a master's in marine biology from the University of Miami in 1967. In 1968, after collecting cephalopods for a research program in Antarctica, Wright found his way to Australia. He hitchhiked to Cairns and fished for black marlin on the Great Barrier Reef with Capt. George Bransford, who is credited with catching the first 1,000-pound marlin, or "grander," in Australia. Wright fell in love with the marlin fishery and fished the reef every season from '68 till 2008. He employed the heavy tackle and boat-handling tactics he learned chasing giant bluefin in the Bahamas and tallied incredible numbers. Vessels that Wright captained, most notably the 40-foot Duyfken (Dutch for "little dove"), caught more granders than any other in history, including a 1,442-pound black marlin — the largest ever weighed in Australia. Wherever you found billfish or giant tuna, you'd find Wright. He wrote about offshore fishing, conducted seminars and promoted conservation efforts from Africa to the Outer Banks. After a good day on the water, Wright liked to enjoy a cocktail he called the "Health Drink" — a tall glass full of ice with tonic water because quinine helps stave off malaria, lime juice and wedges for scurvy, and rum "because it makes it you feel good." Wright died Jan. 23, 2023. He was 79.

Zachem, David, Class of '61

David Jonathan Zachem was born on August 28, 1942, the son of a cement finisher. He grew up partly in Kentucky, but the family later moved to South Florida. Zachem attended Stranahan High School in Fort Lauderdale, where he was on the swim team and also worked at his father's concrete company.

After graduating, he attended the University of Florida, dropping out when his father died in an effort to save the company. He then graduated from Florida Atlantic University. After learning about the real estate business in South Florida, he moved to St. Petersburg in 1984. In 1988, Zachem worked on two major campaigns, Robertson's presidential bid and the successful campaign for Jim Smith as Pinellas County Property Appraiser.

"He's been really helpful in bringing the faith of evangelicals into the Republican fold in Florida," the political consultant said. Barry Edwards.

He also worked as Smith's second in command for a few years and then started his own business as a tax consultant. To his sons, he preached flexibility and openness to people who have different points of view. This legacy lives on in a time of historic political division. "A lot of people seem to be like, 'If you're not on my side, then you're my enemy, and if you do things a certain way, then I can't be with you,'" Jonathan said. Zachem "He just couldn't understand that. He learned very quickly that if you didn't make friends on the other side and respect people, you would never do anything."

Zachem is survived by his sons Jonathan Zachem and his wife, Betty; and Steven Zachem and his wife, Andrea; a sister, Rebecca Zachem Toahy; and six grandchildren. The family is planning a memorial service for 1 p.m. on August 6, at a location to be determined.
